SEE GOOD YEAR IF BERLIN FUSS CLEAR AWAY

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The hand-cappers already are busy sizing up how the economy is going to run the course next year—and the differences in opinion should make it a good horse race.

Almost all of the economists, government and private, and a majority of businessmen, seem confident it will be a fast track if the Berlin storm clouds blow over. The odds favor records being broken—but by just how much that's where the experts differ.

The guessing covers such things as price trends, industrial production, total output of goods and services, and a long list of prospects for individual industries.

MOST OPTIMISTIC

Predictions by the President's Council of Economic Advisers are the highest. They put 1962's total output at better than $570 billion, and 1963's at a whopping $620 billion. This compares with this year's expected final figure of $520 billion and 1960's relatively modest $503.5 billion.

The views of the business Council, made up of some 100 heads of the biggest corporations, are a big more modest, though on the optimistic side.

At the professional level are two pooling of minds this week:

1. The annual get-together of the National Association of Business Economists in Chicago. Their president, Dr. George Cline Smith, a senior partner of MacKay-Shields Associated, New York, says the standard forecast is for total output to hit a $570 billion annual rate by the end of 1962. But if it is to climb steeply after that, he says that consumers will have to spend more, and businessmen invest more in new plant and equipment.

ANNUAL POLL

2. The annual polling of economists by the F. W. Dodge Corporation, construction news and marketing specialists. There is considerable spread this time in their views. But the average guess of the 316 economists puts the national output, Gross National Product, at $565 billion by the end of 1962.

The average guess on the Federal Reserve Index of Industrial Production is a record high of 122 by December 1962, compared with 112 this September. The 1957 average equals 100.

Nearly all of the 316 see consumer and wholesale prices creeping higher in 1962. Many expect inflation to be more of a problem next year. Blamed are defense spending, domestic policies, the rising cost of services, and the stimulus of the upturn in general business activity.

BETWEEN EXTREMES

Opinions of the individual economists range between these extremes:

1. "The 1962 economic outlook is strictly A-OK. More people will have more money with which to buy more products than ever before in history."

2. "There is nothing in the cards to indicate that business activity in 1962 will reach boom levels. First, the American consumer is well stocked and bored to boot with the unimaginative goods being offered. Second, the heavy excess capacity hanging over a number of important American industries rules out a capital expenditure spurt next year or the year after. Finally, a $5-billion, or even a $10-billion, increase in defense spending certainly will add to the demand pressures but stepped-up Federal outlays will be largely lost in our vast economy."

The 316 economists themselves range widely: 51 are from financial and insurance organizations, 178 from manufacturing and other business firms, 37 from colleges and universities, 6 from government, and 44 from consulting firms or trade and research organizations.

POLICEMAN IS SLAIN BY WIFE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An off-duty Philadelphia policeman was shot and killed Sunday by his 25-year-old wife, police said.

The victim was John F. X. Connely, 28, who was found face down in the living room of his North Philadelphia home, shot in the back.

Police said Connely's wife, Marie, told them she shot him after he slapped her in a quarrel. She said they quarreled when she asked him for money to buy food for their three children, whose ages range from three months to three years.

Mrs. Connely was charged with murder. A hearing was scheduled for today before Magistrate William Hagan.

Tearfully, Mrs. Connely told police that her husband had beaten her several times during their five years of marriage.

She said that when she pointed her service revolver at him, he turned his back and dared her to shoot.

J. M. SCHENCK DIES IN SLEEP AT AGE OF 83

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Joseph M. Schenck, who made $4.50 a week as an immigrant boy in New York and a fortune as lord of a celluloid empire in Hollywood, is dead at 83.

Schenck helped develop such diverse talents as Fatty Arbuckle and Marilyn Monroe and had a hand in founding four major entertainment enterprises during his long career.

He was generally an off-stage figure, but scandal once brought him prominence—and a brief prison term.

He died in his sleep Sunday at his Beverly Hills home. He had been in failing health since he suffered a broken hip more than two years ago.

HAD MANY STARS

Buster Keaton, John Barrymore and Constance Talmadge were among those who achieved stardom under Schenck's guidance. He oversaw direction of films starring Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin and Rudolph Valentino.

He was one of the organizers of Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corp. and United Artists Theatres, Inc. He later formed Magna Corp. with the late Mike Todd and at the time of his death was head of Joseph M. Schenck Enterprises, a motion picture producing firm.

Schenck married actress Norma Talmadge, sister of Constance, in 1916. She divorced him in 1934 and he never remarried. He lived quietly and alone in later years.

LOST MILLIONS

Schenck made a star of Fatty Arbuckle and had a backlog of Arbuckle films ready for release when Arbuckle was accused of causing the death of a girl dancer at a wild party. He was never convicted but his films were practically worthless and Schenck lost millions.

He was convicted in 1941 of two counts of income tax evasion and sentenced to a three-year prison term. The sentence was suspended in 1942 after he served four months and five days at the Federal Correctional Institution in Danbury, Conn.

RUSK CLAIMS RED KNOW U.S. ALLIES STRONG

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk, backing a Pentagon official's declaration that the United States has the retaliatory power to crush any aggressor, says any U. S. approach to negotiation with the Soviet Union would be from a position of strength.

Rusk emphatically identified himself Sunday with the assessment of U. S. military power by Roswell L. Gilpatrick, deputy secretary of defense. In a speech Saturday night, Gilpatrick said the United States "has a nuclear retaliatory force of such lethal power that an enemy move which brought it into play would be an act of self-destruction on his part."

Appearing on a television interview program—ABC—"Issues and Answers" Rusk was asked what made it possible now for the administration "to speak out so confidently and positively" on U. S. military power.

"I think this is a point about which there ought to be more general public understanding, because when you are in problems of negotiation, the question inevitably comes up from time to time whether you are negotiating from a position of strength or of weakness or whether you have cause to be nervous or confident," Rusk replied.

"The point is that the United States and its allies are strong. Mr. Khrushchev must know that we are strong, and he does know that we are strong."

STATE COUNCIL TO BEGIN WORK

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Council of Education will meet here Wednesday to study standards for reorganizing Pennsylvania's 2,244 school districts into fewer and larger units by 1965.

The legislature approved mandatory consolidations in the recent session.

In the latest in a series of statements favorable to school district reorganization, the Department of Public Instruction said Sunday Pennsylvania lags far behind other industrial states in reducing the number of school districts.

Dr. Carl D. Mornewick, director of research, said that in the past 30 years the average number of school districts in the nation was reduced by 71 per cent compared to 13.3 per cent in Pennsylvania.

Taylor and his staff from Washington have made a two-day field inspection of rebel activity.

Taylor's helicopter took him to the edge of Communist North Viet Nam during the tour and over areas of South Viet Nam dominated by the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

Baltimore Nips Mount Booters

The Mt. St. Mary's soccer team dropped a hard-fought 1-0 decision to Baltimore University in a Mason-Dixon Conference game played in a steady rain at Gettysburg on Saturday.

The only score of the game came on a 12-yard boot by Howard Beck, Baltimore inside left.

Baltimore took 30 shots as compared to 15 tries for the Mount. The Mount goalie was credited with 25 saves as compared to nine for Baltimore.

The Mountaineers, now 2-2 in the conference and 3-3 overall, will meet Towson at Towson on Tuesday.

Mitchell Scores 3 In Steelers' Loss

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Cleveland's Bobby Mitchell is scheduled for military duty early next month, but that's too late as far as the Pittsburgh Steelers are concerned.

The speedy halfback scooted for three touchdowns Sunday as the Browns nipped the Steelers in a 30-28 thriller.

The loss was the Steelers' fifth in six games. The victory gave the Browns a 4-2 record and kept them in contention in the National Football League's Eastern Division.

However, as important as Mitchell's churning legs were to the Cleveland cause it was the accurate right toe of Lou Groza which nailed down the victory.

Groza booted a 12-yard field goal late in the final period to give the Browns a 30-21 margin. Earlier he kicked field goals of 24 and 36 yards and converted after each of Mitchell's touchdowns.

Errant Gridders Face Penalties

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association council started its three-day meeting today amid speculation that it would mete out penalties to errant members.

Walt Byers, executive director of the NCAA, declined to comment on the reports. However, the council meetings of the last two years have produced penalties for several colleges.

The council is the most powerful group of the NCAA. The 18-man committee directs the policies of the organization and is its main enforcement arm.

A 16-point program designed to combat gambling in intercollegiate athletics will be presented to the council by NCAA President Henry B. Hardt of Texas Christian.

SEE GOOD YEAR IF BERLIN FUSS CLEAR AWAY

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The hand-cappers already are busy sizing up how the economy is going to run the course next year—and the differences in opinion should make it a good horse race.

Almost all of the economists, government and private, and a majority of businessmen, seem confident it will be a fast track if the Berlin storm clouds blow over. The odds favor records being broken—but by just how much that's where the experts differ.

The guessing covers such things as price trends, industrial production, total output of goods and services, and a long list of prospects for individual industries.

MOST OPTIMISTIC

Predictions by the President's Council of Economic Advisors are the highest. They put 1962's total output at better than $570 billion, and 1963's at a whopping $620 billion. This compares with this year's expected final figure of $520 billion and 1960's relatively modest $503.5 billion.

The views of the business Council, made up of some 100 heads of the biggest corporations, are a big more modest, though on the optimistic side.

At the professional level are two pooling of minds this week:

1. The annual get-together of the National Association of Business Economists in Chicago. Their president, Dr. George Cline Smith, a senior partner of MacKay-Shields Associated, New York, says the standard forecast is for total output to hit a $570 billion annual rate by the end of 1962. ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The report of a fight at Harper's Ferry proves to have been correct. It appears that a force of Confederates variously stated at from sixteen hundred to three thousand strong, attacked the Federal pickets on Bolivar

Heights which are on the Virginia side, about a mile above Harper's Ferry, on Wednesday. The Federal force consisted of six companies, detachments from the Twenty-eighth Pennsylvania,

Third Wisconsin, and Thirteenth

Massachusetts regiments. The fight was kept up for some time, when the National force was increased by three companies from the Third Wisconsin, and the Confederates were driven back and one of their guns, a thirty-two pounder, was captured and brought across the river.

Several prisoners were also captured. Our loss in killed and wounded was seven, whilst that of the Confederates is said to be much larger.—Col. Ashby, who commanded their cavalry force, is reported to be among the killed.—He is a brother of the

Col. Ashby who was killed some months since. The gallant Col.

Geary commanded, and was slightly wounded.

In a few days the most gigantic military expedition that hasever been prepared on this continent will sail under commandof flag officer Stribling and General Viele.—It will leave Anapolis for an important Southern harbor. Of course no oneknows or cares to know its precise destination but we shall undoubtedly hear from it when it gets there!

It is believed at Washington that the Confederate army have again fallen back, deserting

Vienna and the whole line of the Leesburg railroad, and concentrating at Fairfax Court House.It is also reported from the Upper Potomac that they have withdrawn their forces from the vicinity of Leesburg back towards the Manassas Gap railroad, with the intention, it is supposed, of falling back upon Manassas

Junction.—Before retiring from Vienna they tore up the railroad, carrying off the rails and burning the sleepers. They also burned a railroad bridge.

large barn of Mr. Vincent O'Bold, barn was 115 feet long, and 89

Several tramps are said to have slept in the barn and to have narrowly escaped with their lives; they were not in that part of the barn in which the fire originated or they would have been burned to death.It is true, as represented in late despatches, from Europe, that Russia and Turkey have formed an offensive and defensive alliance, the complications of the so-called Eastern question are growing more serious. It is not likely that hostilities will be begun this winter, but the impression is growing that war on a large scale will open next spring, into which all the European powers
may be drawn.

Today's Talk

WE IN OTHERS

The life we live in ourselves is not always even or unperturbed. And many times when it appears peaceful and all serene, just at that very moment it may be in its most utter confusion.

In ourselves we are not what we appear to be exteriorly at all! But when we run to others and knock at their doors and they let us in, we give at the start a hearty and happy smile and are accepted for what we are by our friend or host, and there we live in helpfulness and contentment.

And that is the true life at its best and happiest.

This body carries us through hells and heavens and seems quite indifferent to both our comfort and happiness, but we are being constantly born and re-born in the lives of others. And when we are most unhappy in ourselves, we are often spreading a feast of love and beauty before our keepers—those others in whose hearts we so richly live.

Samuel Butler once said that a man's life is in "his birth throes." And when you come to think of it, how unfortunate for a man to live out a single birth!

Not only must we be reborn for ourselves, in order to make ourselves agreeable to ourselves, but we must do our part to fulfill the call of the race in contributing good parts of ourselves for the nourishment of others.

A shrivelled life, I think is the one which won't let itself out.

You can pile up a little money, and if you lock it in a place strong enough, it won't run away, but just the minute you lock up yourself you begin to disappear.

What we are most and greatest we are in others!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Leaks."

BRIDGE POST MORTEM

When in a game of bridge I sit

To certain tortures I submit;

For at the table always one

Will tell me what I should have done;

And always, when each hand is Played,

The game is tediously delayed

Because each player feels compelled

To tell the rest what cards he held.

"Now let me see," it starts this way,

"Of clubs I had the jack and trey,

Of diamonds ace and queen and nine,

I didn't dare attack that line;

I'd five small spades, but no command.

Well, how would you have played that hand?

Of trump — that's why I raised

you, brother —

I'd ace and queen, and then one other."

The water that beyond has rolled

Will never grind the mill, we're told,

But half the work of bridge, I find,

Is keeping bygone hands in mind.

And as a player you are bad

If you forget what cards you had.

The part of bridge that I despise

Is hearing them post mortem.

Muhlenberg at Bucknell.

A steady rain fell all day Saturday in Allentown, but for the Gettysburg College Bullets it was a bright day. It finally rained touchdowns for the Orange and Blue. Gene Haas' Gettysburg eleven broke a five-game losing streak by blasting the Mules of Muhlenberg 22-8 in a contest that dampened the host team's homecoming more ways than one.

The encounter started with a pair of winless teams and fighting to get out of the cellar of the Middle Atlantic Conference University Division. As the final gun sounded, Gettysburg was 1-5 on the season and the Mules were where they started but now 6-5.

The some 3,000 brave fans, who dotted the Muhlenberg grandstands, watched the Bullets march 50 yards for a score the first time they got their hands on the ball. After gaining one yard on three carries, Muhlenberg was forced to punt. Gettysburg took possession of the downed ball on its own 47.

Jack Norwood and Terry Looker picked up 10 yards to the Mules' 43. Again Norwood and Looker tooted the bell 11 yards to the 32. Phil Parsons added three and Senior quarterback Earl Little kicked a pass and on the keeper moved up the center of the field 22 yards to the Muhlenberg seven. Looker moved to the five and Phil Parsons scored on the next play off right tackle with 9:16 remaining in the first period. Earl Little's placement attempt was wide to the left.

HITS ON FIVE PASSES

The ball exchanged hands twice across the midfield stripe before the quarter ended. Following three unsuccessful downs, Muhlenberg again booted the leather and Gettysburg took over on its 20. The Bullets marched 30 yards on 13 plays for its second score at the 8:54 mark of the second frame.

The Little Diplomats took a 1-0 lead after the first 15 seconds of the second period. Bob Addogli rammed through an unassisted shot from the far right side of the field.

The Little Bullets came back at the 12:55 mark of the same period to knot the count on Gil Lusk's shot, assisted by Howard Kline. Gettysburg put the game on ice in the final period with a pair of goals. Kline connected from the right side with 15 seconds gone by in the last frame. Midway through the final quarter John Cole stuck fired a shot from the left side of the cage.

Gettysburg (2-0) will entertain Mercersburg Academy Saturday afternoon as part of the annual Home-coming Weekend.

U.S. HORSEMEN WIN AT SHOW

HARRISBURG (AP) — Officials of the Pennsylvania National Horse Show are looking to 1962 with "a lot of zest" thanks to an infusion of interest that swelled crowds at the just-ended 1961 show.

Contributing to the renewed enthusiasm and, perhaps, to the swollen attendance was the performance of the United States equestrian team which won team and individual honors the second year running.

Bill Steinkraus, team captain, turned in his sixth triumph Saturday night and the seventh for the United States aboard Ksar D'Esprit who was an almost flawless performer in the 11 international events.

Steinkraus, who rides with almost unbelievable coolness, walked off with individual honors. His 68 personal points gave the U.S. a total of 98, 40 more than Argentina. Mexico was third with 40, followed by Canada with 38 and Ireland with 24.

MAY BAR PLAYERS

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — The Eastern Basketball League intends to bar for life any player who jumps a professional basketball league contract.

The resolution was passed at a hearing meeting here Sunday after reports that some Eastern League players plan to switch over without permission to the new American Basketball League.

The all-important win for the Bullets may have been just the thing they needed to put them on the right road when they face another MAC foe, Lafayette, next Saturday on Memorial Field for the annual homecoming weekend.

RECEIVES TIN CUP

Little turned in an exceptionally fine job completing 15 of 23 aerials for 183 yards. He also picked up an additional 13 yards on nine carries. Terry Looker, who has been an alternate fullback for the last two years, came through with flying colors by adding 64 yards rushing on 17 carries. Jack Norwood registered 34 rushing yards on nine carries. Phil Parsons, a sophomore fullback, caught seven of Little's passes for 84 yards.

Little, for his fine performance, received the annual Old Tin Cup award presented by the two school newspapers to the game's outstanding player.

LONG TD DRIVE

Kennard-Dale drove 89 yards for its touchdown early in the second quarter. The Rams picked up five straight first downs with Luther Johnson accounting for 27 yards on five tries while Tom Prim streaked 31 yards to put the ball on the Bermudian 19. From that spot Gary Tarbert bolted off left tackle and streaked the rest of the way for a score. The Rams failed to convert when a fumble occurred on the Rams' 37.

After missing the first down, Bermudian threatened again late in the period when Craig Stone returned a Ram punt 38 yards to the Rams' 28. The Eagles managed to get to the 11 before their drive was stopped.

PITT DROPS 4TH STRAIGHT TO UCLA

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Coach Johnny Michelosen uses one quarterback instead of three now, but his Pitt Panthers are still losing football games.

The Panthers dropped their fourth straight Saturday 20-6 to UCLA. The losing streak equals longest since Michelosen became head coach in 1955. In 1957, Pitt lost to Army, Notre Dame, Syracuse and West Virginia. Pitt won its opener this season.

Jim Traficant started for Pitt against the Bruins and completed nine of 25 passes for 89 yards. In the Panthers' first four games, Michelosen alternated two or three quarterbacks.

UCLA, however, took advantage, intercepting three of them, of some of Traficant's passes. Bobby Smith ran 26 yards with one for a touchdown, and another one set up a six-pointer.

Michelosen displayed mixed emotions about Traficant's passing.

"Traficant has thrown better," he said. "But I thought he fought real hard. This is the first time he's been under fire this year and he may have been a bit rusty."

Bears Throttle Shotgun Offense Of 49ers; Eagles And Giants Remain Tied

By MIKE BREYER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Who forgot to load the shotgun? That was the big question in the National Football League Sunday after the Chicago Bears soundly smacked San Francisco's high-powered shotgun offense and knocked the Bears out of a share of the Western Conference lead with a 34-6 thumping.

Clicking with an effective social combination with castoff quarterback Billy Wade, shooting to rookies and Mike Davis, the Bears roared smugly Sunday morning, soundly thumped San Francisco's three-quarter shotgun with a 34-6 thumping.

Chicago allowed the Bears who averaged over 40 points in their previous games, to score just halffield only once while Mike's accurate passing found their target for four Chicago touchdowns. Davis grabbed his covering 47 and 15 yards.

PACKERS IN FIRST

The defeat left the Bears who won 4-2 records, a game behind the first-place Green Bay Packers, who whipped the Minnesota Vikings 30-7 and may have located a replacement for Army-round Paul Hornung in his returning Tom Moore.

Philadelphia's Eagles clinched Eagles to a 4-3 record, a game behind the first-place Green Bay Packers, who whipped the Minnesota Vikings 30-7 and may have located a replacement for Army-round Tom Moore.

Cleveland (4-2) stayed one game back of the Eastern leaders by beating Pittsburgh's ambitious Steelers 38-22 with the key help of Lou Groza's three field goals.

Oakland took the lead at San Diego with a 26-yard pass from Tom Flores to Bob Coughlin but Paul Lowe ripped off a couple of long touchdown runs to shoot the Chargers out front. They added to it steadily as they went along.

While the status quo was maintained in the Western Division all was turmoil in the Eastern. Leading New York took the half-way point of the season with a 54-yard field goal. It was just one yard under the league record of 5

TOUGH CHOICE FOR ADENAUER ON BRENTANO

BOHN, Germany (AP)—Kernau Adenauer today faced a difficult choice between replacing Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano or keeping him and narrowing the chances of becoming West Germany's chancellor for the fourth time.

Brentano has been the most radical exponent of the 55-year-old chancellor's policies, but the Free Democratic party decided Saturday to join in a coalition government with the Christian Democrats under Adenauer only if the foreign minister is replaced.

Officially the Free Democrats said they want a new foreign minister to produce a more flexible foreign policy. Party members said privately they want to see more an "impartial" foreign from such an important Committee post.

PARTY BADLY TORN

"I am the only one who will make foreign policy in this government," Adenauer recently told his party's members in Parliament.

The Free Democrats' steering committee wrangled more than 11 hours before the faction willing to accept Adenauer as chancellor was out by a slim majority.

Participants in the meeting said the dispute nearly was the Free Democratic party's answer. The two powerful deputy chairmen, Oswald Kohn and Heinrich Schneider, who are against Adenauer becoming chancellor again, resigned in protest.

Ernst Meissel, the Free Democratic party chief, said the chancellor offered him the foreign ministry but that he stuck to his pledge not to serve under Adenauer and turned it down.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By MARY BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Choosing a career is one of the great problems of life.

Many men in middle age, after working a quarter century or more at one calling, wonder if they didn't perhaps make the wrong choice.

They half-jest to be something else.

CHOICE OF ULCERS

The office worker wonders if he wouldn't be happier if he had become an engineer. The traveling salesman wonders if he wouldn't get more kick out of living if he ran a shoe store. The doctor wonders if it wouldn't be better to be a business tycoon—and enjoy his own choices instead of having to treat those of others.

Yes, at times we all feel that, given it to do over again, we would choose a different career. My dreamlike choice is to be a hermit, a hermit with a nice home in the woods and an inherited income for life. What better existence could one aspire to?

You would awaken to birdsong, not the clatter of an alarm clock.

You wouldn't have to worry about paying income taxes or meeting mortgage payments or dealing with collectors.

WHAT YOU'D MISS

You wouldn't have to answer people who, in the middle of a long wave, ask, "Are enough for you?"

You wouldn't have to wait in line at a checkout counter in a supermarket.

You wouldn't have to look for a parking space.

You wouldn't have to explain to a wife why you took the 7:12 commuter train home instead of the 5:50.

You could gain 15 pounds in weight without a guilty feeling that you were letting down civilization.

MORE ADVANTAGES

Oh, there are a lot of advantages to being a hermit. Such as:

You wouldn't have to go to cocktail parties.

You wouldn't have to listen to after-dinner speeches, attend PTA meetings, fight orangewax, or shovel a path to the garage on snowy days.

You wouldn't have to borrow money to contribute to worthwhile causes.

You could scratch yourself in public, as the only spectators would be chipmunks and squirrels.

WOULD BE WONDERFUL

You could flick cigar ashes on the floor and not get banished out. You could take a shower without having to fight your way offices would monitor all advertising media in an effort to check advertising for shelters and other civil defense items.

Only VIP Who Did Not Ask For Money

NEW YORK (AP)—Elihu Root, president of the only country in the world still paying back its World War I debt to the United States, hasn't asked for a dime during his current visit here.

So Friday night, the president of Finland received a shiny silver dollar from George J. Bourque, mayor of Fitchburg, Mass., which has a large Finnish population.

"You are one of the few foreign dignitaries to come here and talk to our President without asking for money," Bourque told Root, at a Finnish-American Society banquet.

"Therefore, we don't want you to go back empty-handed."

BOHN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will go to the United States immediately after he is released to talk with President Kennedy, one of the chancellor's closest associates today.

"It is essential that the chancellor talk to Mr. Kennedy before further plans are made for negotiations with the Russians on Berlin and Germany," the source said.

TOKYO (AP)—Japan announced Saturday that it has approached the Soviet Union directly with a strong request that it cancel plans to explode a 30-megaton H-bomb at the end of its series of nuclear tests.

The foreign office said the Japanese protest, describing the planned tests as "reckless," was headed Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov Friday in Moscow by Ambassador Hisao Ari Yamada.

ATHENS (AP)—Athens newspapers reported on Saturday that Onassis, ex-wife of Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis, will marry Britain's Marquess of Blandford Monday.

The announcement in the society columns said the ceremony will be in a Greek Orthodox Church in France. The marquess is the 35-year-old son and heir to the Duke of Marlborough.

through a bathroom forest of drying nylon stockings.

You could cut your own hair and not have to listen to a hairdresser. "It's getting a bit thin on top. I'd do something about it if I were you, sir."

Oh, it would be wonderful out there—alone in the peaceful woods. No headlines to scare you silly, no manic materials to make you leap for the safety of the curb, no peddler at your door trying to sell you an electronic can opener.

BIG DAILY DECISION

You could let the dishes pile up in the sink for a week at a time if you chose.

You wouldn't wear holes in your pants reaching for tips to placate hatchet girls, waiters, and cab drivers.

You would never, never, never have to ask the boss for a raise.

Each evening as the sun sank in glory you'd sit in your front porch rocker, patting your bountiful dog's head, as you brooded over the one big decision of the day:

"What shall I do tomorrow—go hunting, or go fishing?"

When you get right down to it, why doesn't everybody run away to the woods and become a hermit?

Littlestown

TOWN COUNCIL WILL MEET ON TUESDAY NIGHT

The October meeting of the Littlestown Borough Council will be held at 8 p.m. on Tuesday at the Community Center, E. King St.

Members of the ULCW who were members for the service were Mrs. Evelyn Asper, Mrs. Harry G. Burrow, Mrs. Preston L. Myers and Mrs. Samuel Steiner.

The flowers were presented by Mrs. Naomi C. Schwartz and Mrs. J. Ray Reinholz, in memory of Mrs. Alberta Miller.

The choir will rehearse on Wednesday, with the Junior group at 7 p.m., and the Senior Choir at 8 p.m. The annual convention of the West Pennsylvania Conference of the ULCW will be held at Gettysburg on Thursday, with registration at 8:30 a.m. Those planning to attend should contact Mrs. Robert V. Weaver, ULCW president. The subscription campaign for "The Lutheran" for 1962 is now in progress. The annual dinner and an banquet will be held on Monday, November 12, and tickets are available from Clark Anderson, Harry Barnes or Ernest Baumgartner.

Laymen's Sunday will be observed at the worship next Sunday in St. John's Church, 36:15 a.m. The men of the Brotherhood will be in charge, will assist in the service and will make up the choir. The guest speaker will be Rev. Eugene Hartman, Gettysburg, and his theme will be "Men of God at Work."

PIRE DESTROYS ITALIAN LINER

ST. GEORGE'S, Grenada (AP)—Fire burned out an Italian liner within sight of this British West Indies port today after all but one of the 30 persons aboard escaped.

All hope was abandoned for salvaging the 17,321-ton Savona C.

which burst into flames Sunday night shortly after anchoring about a mile off shore.

Maritime officials were investigating reports of an explosion before the fire.

The rescue was carried out successfully in calm Caribbean seas.

Chief engineer Rodolfo Napole was killed and eight crewmen injured, but there were no reports of casualties among the 400 passengers.

The Savona C. was on a regular run from Naples to La Guaira, Venezuela, with calls at ports in the West Indies. Most of the passengers were reported to be immigrants to South America.

A leg of lamb may be boned and broiled over charcoal outdoors. You can marinate the meat in a mixture of salad oil, grated onion or crushed garlic and oregano if you like.

TOUGH CHOICE FOR ADENAUER ON BRENTANO

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Choosing a career is one of the great problems of life.

Many men in middle age, after working a quarter century or more at one calling, wonder if they didn't perhaps make the wrong choice.

The half-year to be something else.

CHOICE OF ULCERS

The office worker wonders if he wouldn't be happier if he had become an engineer. The traveling salesmen wonders if he wouldn't get more kick out of living if he ran a shoe store. The doctor wonders if it wouldn't be better to be a business tycoon—and enjoy his own ulcers instead of having to treat those of others.

Yes, at times we all feel that, given it to do over again, we would choose a different career.

My daydream choice is to be a hermit, a hermit with a nice home in the woods and an inherited income for life. What better existence could one aspire to?

You would awaken to birds, not the clamor of an alarm clock.

You wouldn't have to worry about paying income taxes or meeting mortgage payments or dodging bill collectors.

WHAT YOU'LL MISS

You wouldn't have to answer people who, in the middle of a heat wave, ask, "Hot enough for you?"

You wouldn't have to wait in line at a checkout counter in a supermarket.

You wouldn't have to look for a parking space.

You wouldn't have to explain to a wife why you took the 7:12 commuter train home instead of the 5:53.

You could gain 15 pounds in weight without a guilty feeling feeling that you were letting down civilization.

MORE ADVANTAGES

Oh, there are a lot of advantages to being a hermit. Such as: You wouldn't have to go to cocktail parties.

You wouldn't have to listen to after-dinner speeches, attend PTA meetings, fight crabgrass, or shovel a path to the garage on snowy days.

You wouldn't have to borrow money to contribute to worthwhile causes.

You could scratch yourself in public, as the only spectators would be chipmunks and squirrels.

WOULD BE WONDERFUL

You could flick cigar ashes on the floor and not get bawled out. You could take a shower without having to fight your way through a bathroom forest of drying nylon stockings.

You could cut your own hair and not have to listen to a barber's crack. "It's getting a bit thin on top. I'd do something about it if I were you, sir."

Oh, it would be wonderful out there—alone in the peaceful woods. No headlines to scare you silly no maniac motorists to make you leap for the safety of the curb, no peddler at your door trying to sell you an electronic can opener.

BIG DAILY DECISION

You could let the dishes pile up in the sink for a week at a time if you chose.

You wouldn't wear holes in your pants reaching for tips to placate hatchet girls, waiters, and cab drivers.

You would never, never, never have to ask the boss for a raise.

Each evening as the sun sank in glory you'd sit in your front porch rocker, patting your hound dog's head, as you brooded over the big decision of the day:

"What shall I do tomorrow—go hunting, or go fishing?"

When you get right down to it, why doesn't everybody run away to the woods and become a hermit?
